SECOND LIBRARY BOOK REVIEW NEXT WEEK

Author To Review His Autobiography Of Madame Pompadour

The second in a spring series of book reviews will be held at the Memorial Library next Thursday afternoon, February 25, at 3 o'clock. The book selected for discussion is a biography, "Madame de Pompadour," which will be reviewed by its author, David Mynders Smythe.

Smythe, son of a Memphis surgeon, was graduated from the University of Virginia in 1938 and became the youngest person ever to enter the US Foreign Service. It was during his stay in Paris on the staff of Ambassador Bulletin that he developed the idea of writing a biography of Madame Pompadour.

He visited most of the places associated with her name and began his work on a new interpretation of one of the greatest misunderstood women in history.

In 1947, with his appointment to the history staff at Loyola University, Smythe was able to continue his research and writing. "Madame de Pompadour" was published during the past year and throws new light on both Louis XV and his favorite at court.

Following the review tea will be served and there will be an opportunity to meet and talk with Mr. Smythe.

Holders of book review series tickets are requested to present them at the door. Otherwise, donations of one dollar per person will be accepted.

Proceeds will be used toward retirement of mortgage notes on the new library building.

Reports were given by representatives of organizations in the community of what they are doing to help the youth of the community.

NEWMAN CLUB ATTENDS MEET IN JACKSON

Fifty members of the Bay St. Louis Junior Newman Club attended the ninth annual region congress of the Fraternity of Christian Doctrine at Jackson Wednesday, Feb. 10.

While awaiting the opening of the afternoon session, the young people went on a sightseeing tour of the city. At 2:00 p.m. a social hour was held at the KC-VC Club Room where they met students from other states who were also attending the congress.

The second session began at 3:00 p.m. in the McGr. O'Reilly Auditorium of St. Joseph School. Most Rev. Gerard R. O. Garow, STD, Bishop of Natchez, presided, and Miss Joan Cortright, of St. Joseph's School, acted as chairman.

James Wallace of Notre Dame High School, Biloxi, gave a very good talk, "Why I Show Study My Religion," which seemed to especially impress the teenagers. Lombard Burns, St. Elizabeth School of Religion, Clarksville, spoke on "What Truths Of Religion I Most Want To Know," while Miss Ethel O'Neill, of St. Francis Academy, Vicksburg, discussed the modern trend in a speech entitled "Is Authority Out of Fashion?"

After the speeches, Rev. John Scanlon, Nativity Parish, Biloxi, led the audience in a discussion of the issues touched on, and many of the students questioned the speakers and also offered their own views on the subjects.

The Bay St. Louis group was the largest single group attending. Miss Marsha Artigues, one of the Junior Newman Club supervisors, accompanied the group on the all day trip.

E. E. Breland, county supervisor of education, provided the two buses for the journey.

The local Junior Newman Club has been functioning since last September, meeting for an hour each Monday night at the Scout House near Our Lady of the Gulf Church. Its officers are: Christopher Bell president; Malcolm Moreau, vice president; and Ral Ann Witter secretary. Supervisors are Mrs. James Scafield, Miss Mary Lou Scafield and Miss Marsha Artigues. It is under the direction of Father Hugh Taylor.

The Newman Club, named in honor of the educator-convent, John Henry Cardinal Newman, was started to encourage an understanding of spiritual matters and a better knowledge of the Catholic Doctrine among young Catholics; and, by a program of wholesome physical and intellectual activities, to enrich the daily life of its members.

Waveland Gas, Water Construction Contracts Let At Meeting Tuesday

GEORGE STEVENSON GRAND OPENING THIS WEEKEND

Crowning twenty-one years of diligence and sacrifice, this week marks for George F. Stevenson the occupancy of his new business location at 126 Main Street, and which will in the future house Stevenson's Radio & Electric Service.

In the year 1933, two struggling young men who had at the same time become victims of the depression years found themselves unemployed and with no prospects of finding gainful employment. They had commuted together to New Orleans for more than ten years to separate positions and a nice friendship had formed over the period of years. Giving serious thought to their bleak prospects for the future, they evolved the idea of forming a partnership and endeavoring to sell miscellaneous small articles, appliances, and later service, all of this without business location and from two separate automobiles. Later, they were awarded a contract for purchasing and delivering supplies to the Citizens Conservation Camp which was located near Guineville, quite a trek out into the country, and which service had to be completed for 7:00 a.m. each morning. This meant arising and beginning their collection of footstuffs, including about 2000 pounds of ice around 2:00 each morning. This represented hard work for two former office men.

After several months, George F. Stevenson and his former partner, the late J. Townsend Wolfe, managed to buy the J. S. Welch Building on S. Beach Blvd. and where they remained until Miss Josie's death and the settlement of her estate, which left them without a location.

In the year 1937 Mr. Wolfe withdrew from the partnership and returned to his old field of insurance and Mr. Stevenson continued to operate the business, occupying first a building located just opposite the present Echo Building which was destroyed during the 1947 hurricane, and later the first floor of the Echo Building.

During this time, new lines have been added and for his opening Mr. Stevenson has an attractive display of mainly articles and appliances used in the kitchen of the modern home of today.

Reminiscing, Mr. Stevenson recalls the first mechanical gadget sold as an automatic card table—one which dealt and dispersed the cards to each card player—and which naturally always "broke down" at the wrong moment, either just after he or his partner had retired for the night, or were just preparing to do so. So out one of them had to go to service the card table.

Blood Bank Enlist Donors At Courthouse Monday

Is Assisted By SJA Mothers Club

Members of the St. Joseph Mothers Club were present and assisted the Technician of the Hancock County Blood Bank at its appearance in the Court House lobby Monday morning.

The Technician, Miss Edna Isom, said the response to the appeal Monday was gratifying. She praised Mrs. George Anderson and Mrs. Randolph Bourgeois Jr. for their able and helpful assistance.

Special Chairman J. Cyril Glover announced that the Blood Bank group would appear at the Court House lobby each Monday morning for the next few weeks. Persons not listed on the master list were urged to contact the committee there. Blood typing will be done free by the Hancock County Blood Bank and requires less than five minutes time of the donor.

Persons already typed but not listed may join the Blood Bank by bringing their card to the group or to George Heitzmann at the Court House.

A charter member in the organization, Mrs. Mogabgab served as the first secretary in 1938 when the club was founded. She served as vice president in 1943 and 1944 and as president in 1946-1948. She also served as President of the Gulf Coast Council of Garden Clubs and has been affiliated with the State Federation of Garden Clubs.

A nationally accredited Flower Show Judge, Mrs. Mogabgab has judged for camellia and other flower shows in all parts of the Southeast.

EFFICIENCY OF BLOOD BANK IS PROVED THIS A.M.

The Hancock County Blood Bank functioned smoothly this morning when the first donor arrived at King's Daughters hospital within a few minutes after an appeal was made for blood.

A local physician about 8 a.m. this morning realized one of his patients, Mrs. Leo Bermond of 424 Balentine St., would need blood before many hours. Working through the master list of blood donors, he sent an appeal to 8 persons with proper blood type and factor.

Answering the call for volunteer donors were Miss Alberta Eager, Mrs. Charles Carter, Mrs. Philip Allison and Ted Breland.

The patient requiring the blood was not an immediate emergency, but if necessary a transfusion could have been made within an hour of the appeal.

The doctor, who has been actively interested in promotion of the community blood bank, said that this first experience was adequate compensation for the work that went into organizing such a unit. The ease and speed of response from listed donors, he said, instead of the flurry of trying to establish in types was ample proof of the importance and need of keeping the bank in operation.

Five Year Old Local Artist To Have Exhibit At Gulf Coast Art Show

Petite Lorraine de Montluzin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rene de Montluzin, will probably be the youngest artist to have a display in the Gulf Coast Art Exhibit.

The five year old artist is a kindergarten student of Christ Episcopal School. Her interest in colors was first noticed by Mrs. Nellwyn Ducombe, a recognized artist in both New Orleans and Gulf Coast art circles. Mrs. Ducombe encouraged the little girl by giving her some tempera colors for a Christmas present.

Lorraine uses these colors in her "work." She paints from memory, not having reached the age of models.

Three of the pictures have been selected to be shown at the coming exhibit. They are all flower studies, and the remarkable accuracy of line and color is unusual for one so young. Detail is not spared by the talented child and neatness is a predominant factor.

Because of her age, Lorraine's pictures will not be entered for competition in the exhibit, but will form a separate display. The exhibit will be held in the Marine Room of the Markham Hotel, Gulfport, from Feb. 28 through March 2.

Entries will be judged for awards from two age groups—8-12 years and 13-18 years. All entries will be received and registered in the Marine Room on Saturday, Feb. 27 between 9 and 11 a.m.

BETTER TRAIN SERVICE

The Commission Council of the City of Bay St. Louis has scheduled another public hearing regarding the stopping of all trains that pass through Bay St. Louis. This has been done in pursuance to a request from John E. Telford, president of the L. & N. Railroad.

The railroad will be represented by General Solicitor P. F. Osborn and General Passenger Agent R. A. Stanley of New Orleans.

Everyone is urged to attend this hearing because of its vital importance to Bay St. Louis. Only by attending and stating our views on the matter can we impress the Railroad representatives who will be present of the importance of our objective and of the benefit to be derived by getting this service for our train-travelling people.

There was a time when all trains stopped here for at least three minutes, but with the passing of the steam engines this service was curtailed, until now very few trains stop here at all.

We sincerely hope that the representatives present at this hearing will be sufficiently impressed to request their company to have all trains make regular stops here in the future.

LETTERS

Mr. James M. Shaw, President
Board of Supervisors
Hancock County
Dear Mr. Shaw:

I read last week in the local papers that the Board of Supervisors was considering a bond issue to make some repairs using a part of this revenue to add some sort of living quarters to the jail. As you know, the League of Women Voters of Bay St. Louis considers it imperative that something should be done about a night jailer and also about a matron when there are women visitors. As I recall, there was a recommendation from the Grand Jury to this effect, and also that the food supplied the prisoners should be improved, and to my mind, a resident jailer would be the simplest and most economical means of achieving both these ends.

Would you be good enough to read this letter at your next board meeting and to give this suggestion careful thought.

Yours truly,

ADALINE K. SAMUEL
(Mrs. Ernest S. Samuel)

As a newcomer to Bay St. Louis, I would like to congratulate your community on your excellent library and its services.

During the past year, since my family and I arrived here from Long Island we have used your well-equipped library on many occasions and have found it most adequate and its librarians unfailingly obliging.

Sincerely yours,

MRS. THOMAS McAULEY

Local Songwriter Says Her Hobby Is 'Easy As Falling Off A Log' For Her

BY MARGURITE BACKMAN

I should say "my favorite hobby" but the one I'm going to talk about is naturally the nearest to my heart and it is composing songs, the melody and lyrics.

Someone once asked me, "How do you go about composing a song?" Well, to me it is as easy as "falling off a log" of course, it depends a lot on the mood you are in, and the strange thing is one would think you should be in a gay mood, your heart should be free of care, or your surroundings just so. Well, such is not true.

Some of the sweetest songs I have written came to me when I was in a rather depressed mood and when it rains. Of course, a pretty song is really an inspiration, but the mood is the thing.

Sometimes in the midst of cooking a meal a melody would suddenly come to me. Then I would pause a moment, grab a piece of paper, jot down just a paper bag from the kitchen, the first thing I put my hands to, then a pencil and sit at the piano and without the slightest effort a song is born.

I think I have a place in my heart set aside where I can keep the melody of a new song in case a piano is not available for I have done just that.

I think I would be safe in saying I have reached the 100 mark in my repertoire of songs. I am truly sorry that the time when someone will be entertained enough to hear them.

These songs range from Rhapsody to Songs of the Wide Open Spaces. Some go back to World War I, and ten in 1917. One of these reached "Tin Pan Alley" but the time was wrong so it seems, for my song had hardly reached New York when the Armistice was signed. And my little song, full of romance from Dixie, came home again. This song was sent to New York for me by Henry Weisman, the noted violinist of New Orleans, and he had selected three others to follow should this one be published.

Well, that's history now. But I kept on through the years composing songs. From 1917 to 1932 I did not compose. Then suddenly like a bolt out of the blue I composed some of my sweetest songs: "Dixie a Star", "Lane to Heaven" and "Wear Your Little Dress With the Daisies". And I kept going.

During World War II I wrote at least six good songs. My friends like my songs and believe they are good. And so up to the present day I still keep plugging, and no doubt I'll go on in appearance, with two full-length ones. Maybe Lady Luck or the hand of fate will come my way. And who knows—songs with titles like "September Kiss", "Paradise Lost", "Old Wagon Trail", "A Sentimental Fool", "Rambling Cowboy", "Rainbow Valley" which virtually place the refrigerator's and many others may be recognized, contents at the homemaker's fingertips.

If not, I've had lots of fun with my favorite hobby—and being a person Stevenson said that Cyclo-matic food going down "The Sunset Trail" I know refrigerator combinations are known from experience what a hobby is, and with colored cabinets in three means.

It's my belief that everyone should have a hobby. Lots of folks have lost. These new models with pastel cabinets are available with either De-lux or porcelain finish.

Four porcelain finished ranges, including three top Imperial models and a 30 inch range, have colored exteriors which match the refrigerators.

A great deal of research and study went into developing pastels which would harmonize with a wide variety of overall color schemes. Home decorating problems were carefully analyzed, and even the psychological aspects of color were considered.

Color is used extensively to glamorize the interiors of all new Frigidaire refrigerators. Stafford yellow and Sherwood green models have matching colors inside. Those with white cabinets have food storage compartments finished in unusual pastel shades. Under certain lighting conditions it appears as safe, eye-appealing green, at other times, blue. Gold, plastic and chromium trim lends a gemlike appearance to interiors.

Many new storage facilities have been built into the 1954 line. The features include: Special frozen juice can storage in the food freezer; new "pantry" doors with flexible shelf arrangements for storing all kinds of food items, including tall bottles, left-overs and smaller packages; new door storage shelves that serve eggs to the homemaker, one at a time, and special controlled temperature storage compartments for butter and cheese.

The roll-out type aluminum shelf which was pioneered by Frigidaire several years ago, is an important food storage feature in new models. These shelves glide out all the way, making items at the rear as accessible as those at the front.

There are 12 models in the line, including a variety of Cyclo-matic food freezer-refrigerator combinations and Super refrigerators. The latter also have the new colored interiors and large full-width freezing compartments.

At the top of the line is the 15 cubic model which has Cyclo-matic refrigeration and automatic defrosting, and features a separate sealed food freezer that will hold over 90 pounds of frozen food. There is no divider between the graceful full-length vertical doors, and when they are open the extra-large food compartment is completely unobstructed. This unique design provides maximum accessibility, not only to the freezer, but to four full-width roll-out shelves and two large fruit and vegetable Hydrators in the food compartment.

Another new product announced by Frigidaire is a 12.5-cubic-foot upright food freezer with a frozen food storage capacity of about 438 pounds. The smart cabinet styling matches the new refrigerators, and the interior is finished in full color. This new model is equipped with three refrigerated shelves and one removable shelf. In addition, there is a sliding basket at the bottom. The top shelf is equipped with a special pastry rack for cakes and pies. Also there are four full-width shelves and a special frozen juice can rack on the door.

Other products making up the 1954 Frigidaire line include electric ranges, chest type food freezers, an automatic clothes washer, automatic electric flat-iron, an electric ironer, water heaters, an electric dehumidifier and window room air conditioners.

Stevenson, who previewed the glamorous new household products recently during a special meeting in New Orleans, said that Frigidaire factory officials reported three significant trends affecting the design of refrigerators to-day.

1. We obviously are moving into a new era of colorful living. Color-conscious Americans are buying bright upholstery, and clothes, and there is a growing demand for more color in kitchen, dictated in part by modern design.

2. Modern living has created a demand for refrigerators of larger capacity. In answer, Frigidaire has introduced 13 and 15-cubic foot freezer-refrigerator combinations in its new line. The latter is particularly striking in appearance, with two full-length vertical doors.

3. Finally, homemakers are demanding more and more food storage space. Frigidaire has developed a number of new features for 1954 refrigerators, which virtually place the refrigerator's contents at the homemaker's fingertips.

In describing Frigidaire's use of color, Stevenson said that Cyclo-matic food freezer-refrigerator combinations are known from experience what a hobby is, and with colored cabinets in three sizes, including models with storage capacities of 8.4, 10.3 and 13 cubic feet.

At the top of the line is the 15 cubic model which has Cyclo-matic refrigeration and automatic defrosting, and features a separate sealed food freezer that will hold over 90 pounds of frozen food. There is no divider between the graceful full-length vertical doors, and when they are open the extra-large food compartment is completely unobstructed. This unique design provides maximum accessibility, not only to the freezer, but to four full-width roll-out shelves and two large fruit and vegetable Hydrators in the food compartment.

Another new product announced by Frigidaire is a 12.5-cubic-foot upright food freezer with a frozen food storage capacity of about 438 pounds. The smart cabinet styling matches the new refrigerators, and the interior is finished in full color. This new model is equipped with three refrigerated shelves and one removable shelf. In addition, there is a sliding basket at the bottom. The top shelf is equipped with a special pastry rack for cakes and pies. Also there are four full-width shelves and a special frozen juice can rack on the door.

Other products making up the 1954 Frigidaire line include electric ranges, chest type food freezers, an automatic clothes washer, automatic electric flat-iron, an electric ironer, water heaters, an electric dehumidifier and window room air conditioners.

Stevenson, who previewed the glamorous new household products recently during a special meeting in New Orleans, said that Frigidaire factory officials reported three significant trends affecting the design of refrigerators to-day.

1. We obviously are moving into a new era of colorful living. Color-conscious Americans are buying bright upholstery, and clothes, and there is a growing demand for more color in kitchen, dictated in part by modern design.

2. Modern living has created a demand for refrigerators of larger capacity. In answer, Frigidaire has introduced 13 and 15-cubic foot freezer-refrigerator combinations in its new line. The latter is particularly striking in appearance, with two full-length vertical doors.

3. Finally, homemakers are demanding more and more food storage space. Frigidaire has developed a number of new features for 1954 refrigerators, which virtually place the refrigerator's contents at the homemaker's fingertips.

In describing Frigidaire's use of color, Stevenson said that Cyclo-matic food freezer-refrigerator combinations are known from experience what a hobby is, and with colored cabinets in three sizes, including models with storage capacities of 8.4, 10.3 and 13 cubic feet.

Stevenson announced that Frigidaire's new models with pastel cabinets are available with either De-lux or porcelain finish.

Four porcelain finished ranges, including three top Imperial models and a 30 inch range, have colored exteriors which match the refrigerators.

A great deal of research and study went into developing pastels which would harmonize with a wide variety of overall color schemes. Home decorating problems were carefully analyzed, and even the psychological aspects of color were considered.

Color is used extensively to glamorize the interiors of all new Frigidaire refrigerators. Stafford yellow and Sherwood green models have matching colors inside. Those with white cabinets have food storage compartments finished in unusual pastel shades. Under certain lighting conditions it appears as safe, eye-appealing green, at other times, blue. Gold, plastic and chromium trim lends a gemlike appearance to interiors.

Many new storage facilities have been built into the 1954 line. The features include: Special frozen juice can storage in the food freezer; new "pantry" doors with flexible shelf arrangements for storing all kinds of food items, including tall bottles, left-overs and smaller packages; new door storage shelves that serve eggs to the homemaker, one at a time, and special controlled temperature storage compartments for butter and cheese.

The roll-out type aluminum shelf which was pioneered by Frigidaire several years ago, is an important food storage feature in new models. These shelves glide out all the way, making items at the rear as accessible as those at the front.

There are 12 models in the line, including a variety of Cyclo-matic food freezer-refrigerator combinations and Super refrigerators. The latter also have the new colored interiors and large full-width freezing compartments.

BY KIT MICHAEL

Some time ago, this column attempted to interest one or more of our civic minded organizations in correcting a dangerous problem involving bicycle riders. To date the problem is still a problem and nothing has been done.

Children riding their bikes to and from school are not mindful of the dangers they expose themselves to. They can't be expected to uphold all the laws of the road. They don't know them. But some civic minded group in this area should get busy and do something before it is too late.

Darting in and out of traffic, cutting in fast moving traffic from side streets, and just ignoring the danger of traveling in the dark. These are just a few of the hazards confronting the motorist.

Should a child be injured, the immediate blame is usually placed upon the motorist. Judging from my own experience with bike riders in this area I say it is NOT. If parents cannot educate their children to accept the responsibilities of travel, then it is time for someone else to do it. The problem is with us and it is only by the Grace of God that something serious has not happened before this.

A little effort to correct this situation will go a long way. Let's get to it before it catches up with us where it hurts the most, with our kids.

It's wonderful to see our friend Erle Kirkpatrick taking a quickie in his new car. After his recent illness, we hardly expected to see him up and about so soon. Kirk said he gives full credit to his fine physician and the cept bids by items and/or groups also may reject any and all bids.

Given under my hand and official seal of office, this 8th day of February, 1954.

prayers of his good friends. We'll all give thanks for that and wish him the speediest of recoveries.

The Women's Auxiliary, Chapter 1 of Christ Episcopal Church, will hold its annual Silver Tea at the Rectory, 912 South Beach, Thursday, February 18 at 3 p.m.

All are invited to attend. The Auxiliary uses the funds raised by this tea to further the good work of the church. Be assured you are cordially invited and welcome to attend.

The Waveland Volunteer Fire Department is STILL in need of financial aid to complete their fire truck. A thousand dollars is a mighty small amount when you compare it to the volunteer hours of service, the property saved by this small group.

As stated before in this column, the Waveland Volunteer Fire Department is a volunteer group in the strictest sense of the word. They do NOT receive a salary for their services. They have raised the money for their equipment by the hardest means, benefits, dances and other affairs. Their only contribution from the Town is the gas and oil needed to run the fire truck.

The Volunteers are doing a fine job. They ask nothing of anyone for their work. They are making Waveland a better place to live in by removing in part the ever present hazard of fire. They have never refused a call, day or night. By a set of signals they leave their homes, their work, to attend every call.

Their truck has been paid for by means of benefits, dances and fairs. They need one thousand dollars to complete their truck. Equipment does wear out with use and the equipment needed now is NECESSARY, it is not superfluous gear. There is a serious need for new hoses, fire extinguishers to be operated by hand, new nozzles, first aid kits, and other items needed to safeguard you and your property.

Don't wait until you need the services of this group. Send your contribution NOW. How much would YOU lose if you had need of this organization's services and found they could not save your property because the hose wouldn't reach, or their hand fire extinguishers were out of date?

Send that donation through the mail right NOW, to Mrs. R. Noonan, Waveland Volunteer Fire Department, Waveland, Miss. It now while the thought is fresh in your mind.

BETTER TO BE SAFE THAN SORRY.

The Mother's Club of the Waveland School is sponsoring a dance at the Top Hat, Coleman Ave., in Waveland, Saturday evening, Feb. 20.

Mr. Ed Ortle has generously donated the building to this hard working group and a gala night is anticipated.

Leland's band will play for your pleasure. This band is well known in New Orleans and consists of real top cats from Tulane. If you can't dance, you can listen. Either way, it will be fun.

There will be a worth-while entrance prize worth many times more than the admission price of $1.00.

You can pay your admission at the door, or get your tickets from any of the following active committee members. Mrs. Edna Yarborough, Mrs. Isabel Noonan, Mrs. Ed Fayed, Mrs. Wallace Bourgeois and Mrs. August McKay.

It's for the Waveland School, so get out, have a wonderful time and help the Mother's Club with their project.

As I See It . . .

By DR. C. M. SHIPP

Often names, terms or expressions are used by medical men which are not clearly understood by the people because they are not familiar with medical terms and names. There are three terms used that are confusing to the public: endemic, epidemic and pandemic.

When a disease is endemic they mean a case occurs now and then in isolated areas of a community, the source of which cannot be determined. Not many cases occurring over a long period—just enough cases to show that the disease has not been stamped out completely.

The next term used is epidemic, which means that an unusual number of cases of a certain disease have developed, above the normal rate expected in the community. These cases are out of proportion to what we normally expect and the source can often be detected.

The next term is called a pandemic. This is when almost all of the people get sick from the same disease. Example was noted when the disease called flu swept the country in 1918.

All animal life is subject to sickness and disease. This includes even plant life. All living things will die, some of sickness and disease, others with worn out bodies. They fall apart and return to dust. Nothing man-made can last forever. The tooth of time will gnaw it apart and reduce it to a useless form of matter that we call nothing.

This is nature's way of getting rid of eyesores and what we choose to call wrecks. Nature can use us as long as we are useful. When this state not save your property because the hose wouldn't reach, or their hand fire extinguishers were out of date?

Send that donation through the mail right NOW, to Mrs. R. Noonan, Waveland Volunteer Fire Department, Waveland, Miss. It now while the thought is fresh in your mind.

Big Telephone Year for Mississippi

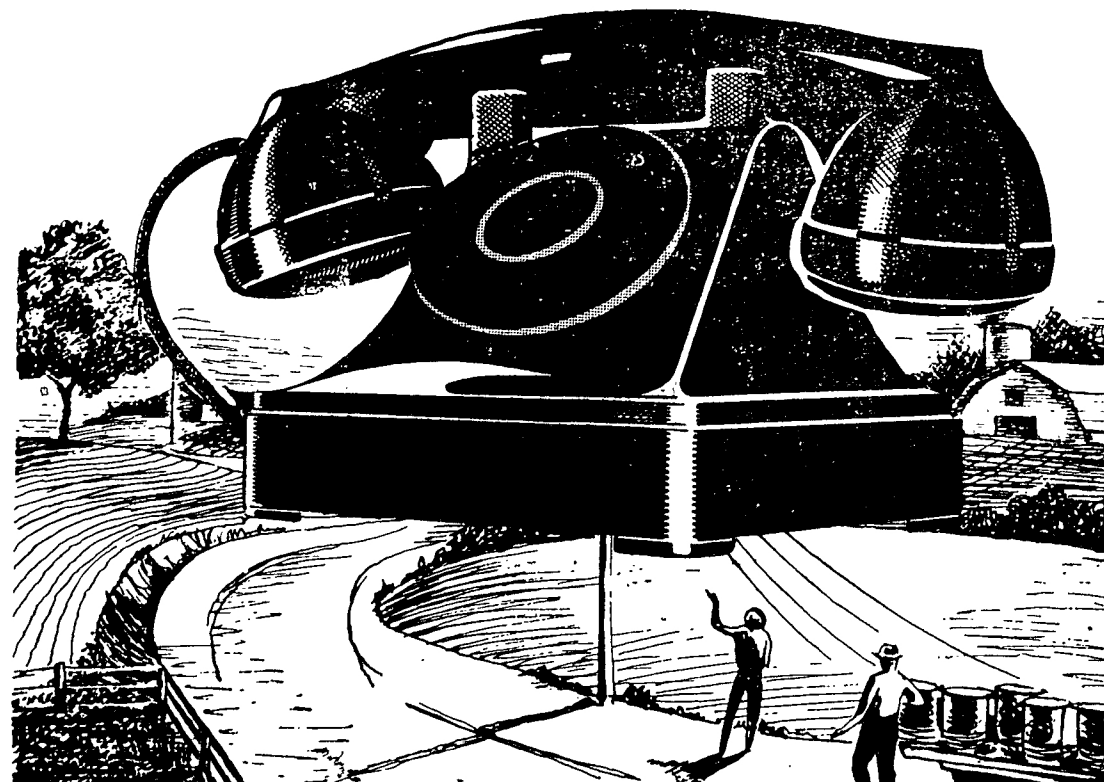

Since the first Mississippi telephone exchange opened at Vicksburg on January 10, 1881, we've kept pace with the growth and expansion of Mississippi.

During 1953, we spent over 11 million dollars in the State to improve service and to place an additional 12,000 telephones at the service of Mississippians.

Throughout the State, today, our people are at work—providing for Mississippi's present telephone needs and planning for the years to come; while researchers in our laboratories are working to find ways of providing even better service for telephone users everywhere.

GETTING UNDER WAY

Baseball season is just around the corner and the Bay Seniors are beginning to take batting practice.

The Bay Seniors were organized last year and played teams from Kiln, Pass Christian and other teams from Bay St. Louis.

Right now it is hoped to get a league started, where games would be played every Sunday. Any teams along the coast that would like to be in this league, and any group of high school boys that are planning to start a team are urged to write Box 426, Bay St. Louis.

The Bay High Tigerettes topped Poplarville 40-19 behind the 22 point effort of Rosemary Millinery. Rosie personally netted more points in that contest than the entire Poplarville team.

The North division will send Sumrall and Petal to the boys finals and Sumrall and Lucedale in the girls division.

The finals will be held at Pearl River Junior College at Poplarville and will begin Thursday night. Bay High in the 8:30 contest and the Tigerettes will battle Petal in the hour earlier contest.

GOLDEN GLOVES TITLES

Bay St. Louis was well accounted for in the Gulf Coast Golden Gloves Boxing Tournament held last week in Biloxi, as Terrell Randolph, A. J. Peterson and John Peterson took the titles in their individual classes.

Randolph, fighting in the Welterweight Novice division, defeated Ralph Redmond, Sauley AFB, Fla. A. J. Peterson took the bantamweight crown by TKO'ing John McGrown in 1 minute, 59 seconds of the second round. Featherweight title went to John Peterson who took a decision over Vincent Phillips, Annunciation of New Orleans. All three boys were presented a trophy.

The boys won the chance to participate in the Southern Golden Gloves being held in Nashville this week but declined as they already have local bouts lined up.

Bill Carr, Robert Bing and Laurence "Boss" Noto also entered the tournament but were eliminated in early rounds.

LOCAL FIGHTERS PARTICIPATE IN EDDY MILLER BENEFIT

Tuesday night three local fighters participated in a benefit bout for Eddy Miller. Golden Gloves champ also was injured in an auto accident. The benefit was held at the Shrine Center in Mobile.

Walter Gex Home To Be Visited During Pilgrimage

One of the many fine homes and gardens to be visited by tourists on Mar. 17, the day of the Bay-Waveland Pilgrimage, is that of Mr. and Mrs.

Walter Gex Jr. This English Type villa is retired considerably from the Beach road, offering a fine expanse of green lawn to the front of the home. The gardens are in the rear. Pebble paths wind through the grounds. The varieties of plants bedded assure prolific blooming at all seasons of the year. Many rare and unusual specimens are grown by Mrs. Gex.

At the far end of the rear yard is a swimming pool set amid shrubs which form a picturesque background, and enhance the charm of the summer house and patio.

The tour through this garden will climax the day of Pilgrimage in Bay St. Louis, and the outdoor tea which will be served by Mrs. Gex in the gardens near the pool will bid adieu to the visitors.

The progress Mississippi is making in reforestation and forest protection is closely linked with the progress our wood-using industries are making toward new uses, new products and new markets for our forest resources.

Working together, our forest landowners and wood-using industries are making a great contribution to the economic welfare of this state.

Realizing this, more of our citizens are joining to encourage the continued development and protection of our forest resources. These same citizens are landowners and wood-using industries can continue to work together to provide more jobs and more income for more Mississippians.

"So Big" Playing at Star Sunday and Monday

"So Big," based on the Pulitzer Prize-winning novel by Edna Ferber, comes to the screen of the Star Theatre on Sunday and Monday, Feb. 14-15.

It is the dramatic story of a woman played by Jane Wyman, who leaves her wealthy girlhood home to start teaching in a remote community. How she falls in love with and marries a husky farmer, forms the background for the important events in the story of Selma DeLong.

Financed by Warner Bros. with a starring cast that includes Academy Award winner Jane Wyman, Sterling Hayden and Nancy Olson, "So Big" as a book has become a perennial best-seller. Now, as a motion picture, the story of Selma DeLong is destined to even greater popularity.

Miss Wyman, whose Academy "Oscar" was won by her poignant portrayal in "Johnny Belinda," will be seen in the role of Selma DeLong, who has been called one of Edna Ferber's greatest literary characters.

In the role of Pervus DeLong, Sterling Hayden enters a strong bid to harvest critical acclaim, according to Hollywood reports.

The six feet, four and a half inch blond giant is teamed with Miss Wyman for the first time in "So Big." One of the most colorful, as well as popular, of the screen's male stars, Hayden has had a meteoric career in films which has been punctuated by an absence during the war when he served with the Marines.

Nancy Olson is one of the key characters in "So Big." She plays the fabulous Dallas O'Mara, the girl who thought of life as a broad canvas upon which she wanted to leave her mark.

Two young and budding stars are provided an opportunity in "So Big" to gain a higher rung on the ladder of cinematic success. They are Steve Forrest and Martha Hyer. Forrest plays the son of Selma and Pervus DeLong. It is her entanglement with the racy Paula Hempel, played by Miss Hyer, which reportedly provides some of the most explosive scenes in the film.

"The Nebraskan" Playing At Drive-In Sun, Mon, Tues.

The grim fury of the last savage raid of the mighty Sioux nation is depicted with stirring excitement in Columbia Pictures' "The Nebraskan," a new action drama in color by Technicolor at the Hi-Way Drive-In Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

A terror-taut film of the great betrayal that bathed the West in blood, "The Nebraskan" has seldom been exceeded for shock thrills and sheer blood-thirsting adventure. Phil Carey and Roberta Haynes head the cast with Wallace Ford also in an important role.

Carey plays the peace-maker with a gun, an Army scout the Indians call "White Arrow," who stops the Whites and the Indians from killing each other—till both sides turn on him. When the Army refuses to surrender Carey's Indian aid, accused by the Sioux of killing their chief, in order to try him under the laws of the new state of Nebraska, war is threatened.

When his Indian friend breaks out of an Army jail with a soldier suspected of murder, Carey trails them to an isolated way station operated by Ford, an ex-cavalryman. On this place, too, converge the Sioux, without knowing the man they seek is there. The inevitable all-out attack by the Indians comes with overpowering fury against the little party of whites divided among themselves.

As the courageous and resourceful Army Scout, Carey checks in with a robust performance that leaves little to be desired. He also handsomely acquires himself in the film's romantic moments with Miss Haynes, that "Return To Paradise" girl who again inflames the screen with a sultry performance. Ford, as the veteran fighter, is as solid as ever.

SECOND GRADE VISITS LOCAL POST OFFICE

Last Thursday Miss Luvenia Sauter accompanied by her grade mothers, Mrs. Theo. Thomas, Jos. Noto and W. G. Steele took her pupils to visit the Post Office. The Postmaster and his assistants showed and explained to the children the complete operation of the mail. The children mailed letters and then observed how they were cancelled and assorted.

The purpose of this visit was to summarize a project they had been working on for several weeks.

Mrs. Ashcraft presented her First Grade pupils in an Indian Program. The program was in connection with the unit "Indian Life" that her pupils have been working on. Dr. Burrows of Mississippi Southern College observed. He commended the program highly.

Mrs. Harriel's Fifth Grade presented an assembly program Friday commemorating the birthday of Abraham Lincoln. The program was as follows:

The playing of the "National Anthem," followed by the pledge to the flag. Horace and Ethel Thompson with their Lightning Yacht "Disturbance" will be in St. Petersburg, Florida this week end representing the Bay-Waveland Lightning Fleet in the Mid-White Lightning Championship. Additional members of the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club, and representing the Southern Yacht Club Lightning Fleet are Lightning Yacht "Sampson" together with Doug Drannon as crew and Arthur and Jane Wynn, with their Lightning Yacht "Jane's Mink" together with Jack Schuch Jr. and Maurice Harrison III as crew.

Arthur Wynn, after much help trouble in the last race of the Mardi Gras regatta just sailed last week end at New Orleans, finished a close fourth behind Gilbert Gray, former Olympic Champion, Cliff Pradon, two time District Champion, and John Teigland, of Haddensfield, New Jersey, who is the former International Champ and winner with two firsts and a second, of the Mardi Gras Regatta just sailed. It will be interesting to watch what happens in the Mid-White Championship Bay-Waveland, Arthur Wynn, who will be trying to push some of these former champs out of the way, and what Louis Koerner does with the "Sampson", which is the same hull sailed and owned by our own Sunny Wolfe here in the Bay for the last several years.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hunter and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Terrell of Outman, Miss. will be week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Norris at the Reed Hotel.
